National Bird Day 2027 Facts and Backyard Bird Tally

Tue., Jan. 5, 2027: FeederWatch rules and a tally for any winter count

Tuesday

January 5, 2027

National Bird Day

Facts

- Record only the largest number of each species in view at the same time over the two-day count.
- Do not add your counts together, and skip birds that simply fly over.
- Project FeederWatch is a November to April survey of feeder birds.

BACKYARD BIRD TALLY (LARGEST NUMBER SEEN AT ONCE)

Northern Cardinal		Total _____
Blue Jay		Total _____
House Sparrow		Total _____
House Finch		Total _____
Purple Finch		Total _____
Evening Grosbeak		Total _____
Other species: _____		Total _____
Other species: _____		Total _____

Not yet confirmed

2027 National Bird Day events: neither the Avian Welfare Coalition nor Born Free USA had posted 2027 events as of Nov. 4, 2026

Count dates, weather and other birds seen

Source: Cornell Lab of Ornithology, Project FeederWatch; Avian Welfare Coalition; Born Free USA.